Eloise's estranged father, Harvey (Robert De Niro), a larger-than-life former hockey player, reluctantly attends the wedding with a heavy heart. His presence reignites old wounds and forces everyone to confront past decisions and missed opportunities.

Amidst the escalating tension, Eloise's former fiancé, Jack (Colin Firth), arrives uninvited, carrying with him unspoken feelings that threaten to disrupt the tranquility of the occasion. As the day progresses, the characters wrestle with their own desires, confront their fears, and navigate the delicate balance between love, loyalty, and forgiveness.

Unforgettable Characters: A Symphony of Nuance

- Eloise, the radiant bride-to-be, grapples with the weight of family expectations while yearning for a love that extends beyond the confines of tradition.
- Harvey, Eloise's estranged father, struggles with his own limitations and the consequences of his past actions, longing for a chance to make amends.
- Jack, a successful lawyer, carries the burden of his unfulfilled love for Eloise, torn between respecting her choice and pursuing his own heart's desire.
- Zoe (Dianne Keaton), Eloise's mother, embodies the complexities of parenthood, navigating the challenges of raising a daughter while confronting her own vulnerabilities.
- Ty (John Cho), Eloise's supportive and understanding fiancé, represents the stability and kindness that Eloise seeks in a partner.

Each character is meticulously developed, showcasing a depth and realism that draws viewers into their emotional journeys.
